FISH AND MARKET STANDS.

ANLEY'S BOOKS SHOW PURCHASES FROM PHILIPSEN.

and Hanley is in the Fruit Business. Mr. Nicol's Trial to Get Comptroller Myers on the Stand. Clerk McCadam's Complaint Case Closed Over Last Wednesday. McGrath Gives Interesting Testimony.

Proceedings in the new West Washington market investigation, before the Commission of Accounts, were opened this morning recalling to the stand John H. Hauley, of the H. Hauley & Co. fruit dealers.

Mr. Hauley acknowledged that his firm had numerous dealings with Charles Philipson, manager of the North River Fish and Game Company.

He denied ever having purchased any point of fish from Philipson; but Lawyer Nicol suggested that there is an entry on Anley's books accounting for a large purchase of fish from Philipson made about the time of the allotment of stands in the new market, and he directed the subpoenaing of Anley's bookkeeper, Hugh Donaldson, and the production of the books of the firm for the inspection of the Commissioners.

"This brought out a protest from the witness, who asked: 'Do you want to ruin my business?'"

George H. Schweitzer, bookkeeper for Barnum Gray, the Centre street liveyman, has two stands in the new market in his name, was next placed on the stand.

His stand is the one which is supposed to have been allotted for the benefit of David Barnett, Deputy Collector of City Revenue and a Finance Department.

Although the witness's residence was noted in his permit as 104 East Eleventh street, Schweitzer testified that his residence at the time it was granted was at 25 Grove street. Schweitzer said that he had paid $137 for fitting up the stands. He afterwards modified this statement by saying that Mr. Gray, his employer, paid the money to Barnett, who was requested to fit up the stands.

No evidence of this transaction appears in Mr. Gray's books, the witness said. It was a very curious case.

This is looked upon as a peculiar proceeding by the Commissioners, who have evidence to the effect that not one book has been made for the stands in the new market, and no attempt made to fit them up, not including this payment to an official of the Finance Department for the alleged purchase of a stand.

The hour of 11 having arrived, Lawyer Nicol suggested that argument on the stand should be given by the witness, which was then made in the presence of Clerk McCadam, who was adjourned, as desired to examine the moving papers.

Mr. Nicol agreed to the adjournment, and the witness was then called back to the stand to secure an adjournment until Wednesday morning by consent.

James McGrath was next called and proved that he was a very old man, over a hundred and fifty pounds weight.

His stand in the new market Mr. Nicol said the Commissioners have strongly suspected was bought for the benefit of Deputy Collector McCaughrin, of the Finance Department.

The revelations made by McGrath's testimony served to ground them in this situation. He testified that he did not make application for a stand until after Dec. 1. At this time all of the stands had been taken up, and the witness's own permit was issued Nov. 10, 1892, before he made an application.

Here Mr. Nicol suggested that Comptroller Myers be called. To this Mr. Nicol consented, saying that it is only fair to the Comptroller that he be the last witness to be examined, so that he may be interpreted as to all matters of detail brought up by the other witnesses.

Mr. Nicol conceded this to be the proper course, and it was suggested that Chief Clerk McCadam be put on the stand to testify to all facts within his knowledge except as to those relating to Philipson and the North River Fish and Game Company.

Lawyer Mitchell, Mr. McCadam's counsel, agreed that his client had been called and announced that he was very ill, being confined to his house by a serious illness. He did not know how soon he would be able to testify.

Thomas Murray, a Jeweler, was next a dealer in the old market, got half a stand in the new market.

He testified to a great deal of hard work in securing even as little space as he had, and began to think, as he frequently told by marketmen, that there was a great deal of "funny business" going on in the Comptroller's office. He did not flinch in getting up until the day before the new market was opened.

A TOWN TREASURER ACCUSED.

He Does Not Run, and Transfers His Property to His Bondsmen.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 18.—Town Treasurer Garrison, of Woodbury, Gloucester County, is alleged to be a defaulter to the extent of $3,500, and has surrendered his property to protect his bondsmen.

Garrison, who is well known throughout Gloucester County, has been Treasurer of Woodbury for the past twenty years. He was formerly County Sheriff and Postmaster.

Efforts to secure the regular nomination of his party for re-election last week, Garrison decided to run as an independent candidate for Treasurer, but when the report was circulated that his accounts were short, he withdrew from the field.
